Highlights of South Australia

7-day birding tour

Sept. 2023

This is one of our longest-running tours which promises even more birds with an updated itinerary. We'll explore South Australia's many varied habitats, ranging from the spectacular Flinders Ranges and surrounding stark outback deserts, to the lush Mt Lofty Ranges; wetlands and estuaries around Adelaide, floodplains along the mighty Murray River and the vast expanses of semi-arid eucalypt scrub at Birdlife Australia's Gluepot Reserve. This wide variety of habitats allows us to maximise the species list – expect up to 200 species, including some highly sought-after birds such as Malleefowl, Banded Stilt, Freckled Duck, Adelaide Rosella, Regent/Mulga/Elegant Parrot, 2 spp of Grasswren, 4 spp of Fairywren, Redthroat, 3 spp of Cuckoo, 3 spp of Tree-creeper, Gilberts/Rufous/Golden/Red-lored Whistler, 2 spp of Quail-thrush, Inland Dotterel and many more. We'll look for mammals as well, including the endangered Yellow-footed Rock-wallaby and Southern Hairy-nosed Wombat. Good food and accommodation: join us this year! As an added bonus we now also offer a pre-tour extension to Kangaroo Island.

ITINERARY

Day 0: From 20 - 22 September 2023, we offer an optional pre-tour excursion to Kangaroo Island. Just off the Adelaide coast, the large island harbours a unique, diverse wildlife, specialised birds, striking scenery and vast wilderness. Key birds include the endangered Glossy Black Cockatoo, colonies of Fairy Penguin, Hooded Plover, Cape Barren Goose, the elusive Western Whistler and the rare Fairy Penguin as well as many sea and land birds. Details of this 3 day trip can be found here: www.bellbirdtours.com/kangaroo-island/ People not joining this trip will make their own way to our hotel on 22 September in Adelaide, where we'll all meet this evening for dinner and introductions. Overnight Adelaide (en-suite hotel room; meals included: D).

Day 1 (23 Sept '23): An early start for our trip to the outback. We follow the coast north, looking for Adelaide Rosella and Slender-billed Thornbill. At Port Augusta we visit the beautiful Arid Lands Botanical Gardens where an array of native flowers and shrubs attract such species as Chirruping Wedgebill, Redthroat, White-winged Fairy-wren and many species of Honeyeater including a chance of Pied and Black Honeyeater. A nearby coastal lake usually has Banded Stilt. We will arrive at Mt Lyndhurst, on the edge of the Strzelecki desert, towards the end of the day. While we enjoy a spectacular outback sunset from a vantage point we marvel at the vastness of the landscape and at the same time look around for Inland Dotterel. Overnight Lyndhurst (en-suite cabins; meals included: B, L, D).

Day 2 (24 Sept '23): We depart around sunrise to start birding at nearby Mt Lyndhurst, where we may see the last few remaining Thick-billed Grasswrens with much luck and perseverance. We should certainly come across other good outback species such as Cinnamon Quail-thrush, Rufous Fieldwren, Chirruping Wedgebill, Zebra Finch, Black-faced Woodswallow and Budgerigar. We'll explore the endless open stony plains of the Strzelecki desert which are traversed by mostly dry watercourses. Expect species such as Budgerigar, Red-backed Kingfisher, Crimson, Orange and Gibber Chat. We'll have a picnic lunch at a billabong (waterhole) with coolabah trees after which we bird our way back to Lyndhurst, looking for Black-breasted Buzzard. If necessary, we return to our sunset viewing point for another chance of Inland Dotterel. Overnight Lyndhurst (en-suite cabins; meals included: B, L, D).

Day 3 (25 Sept '23): Today we'll travel south past the spectacular rock formations of the Gammon Ranges and enter the Flinders Ranges, an impressive range of steep hills and soaring rock formations on the edge of Australia's outback. Mid-morning we travel across dry creekbeds and through narrow gorges cut deeply into geological layers that date back 800 million years. Here we search for Elegant Parrot and Grey-fronted Honeyeater. We visit the fossil site of the Ediacaran fauna, which lived a little before the great explosion of multicellular life at the beginning of the Cambrian Period. Here we're also likely to encounter the endangered Yellow-footed Rock-wallaby. We'll see stately Wedge-tailed Eagles soaring above spinifex-grass covered slopes and there are plenty of Red, Western Grey and Euro Kangaroos. We'll retire to our luxurious base at Wilpena Pound resort for dinner and an optional spotlighting session.
Overnight Wilpena Pound Resort (en-suite motel room; meals included: B, L, D).

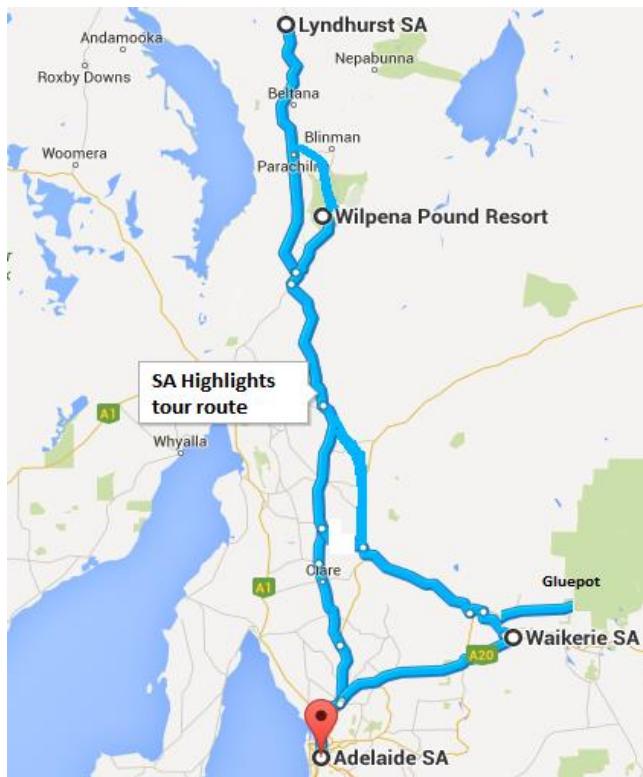

Day 4 (26 Sept '23): Early mornings in the outback can get pretty chilly as we check nearby rocky outcrops for Southern Scrubrobin and various honey-eaters. We will leave the picturesque Flinders Ranges and drive south, through the historic copper mining township of Burra, and bird the extensive prairie-like Bluebush plains for Blue Bonnet, Redthroat, Black-eared Cuckoo, Brown & Rufous Songlark and Australian Pipit. Later in the day we reach Australia's largest river: the Murray. We visit a breeding colony of Regent Parrots and check a few wetlands for waterbirds including crakes, rails and Freckled Duck.
Overnight Berri Resort Hotel (en-suite motel room; meals included: B, L, D).

Day 5 (27 Sept '23): We depart early in the morning for the drive of less than an hour to Birdlife Australia's Gluepot reserve, home to no less than 6 endangered bird species. While the sun rises over centuries-old mallee eucalypts and sand dunes covered in spinifex grass, we look for Malleefowl, Red-lored Whistler, Gilbert's Whistler, Hooded Robin, Southern Scrubrobin, Black-eared Miner, Shy Heathwren, White-browed Treecreeper and Inland Thornbill. As the bird activity slows down, we focus on species such as Chestnut Quail-thrush, Crested Bellbird, Splendid Fairy-wren and Striped Honeyeater. Depending on preceding seasonal conditions we may also encounter White-winged Triller, Pied and Black Honeyeater and Major Mitchell's Cockatoo. From one of the bird hides that overlook a watering hole, we have a chance of observing Mulga Parrot and many of Gluepot's 10 species of Honeyeater. We leave the reserve late in the afternoon to be back at your accommodation around dusk. Overnight Berri Resort Hotel (en-suite motel room; meals included: B, L, D).

Day 6 (28 Sept '22): Today is spent birding our way back to Adelaide. First we follow the Murray River to check out a number of wetlands for species such as Blue-billed and Freckled Duck, Baillon's, Australian Spotted and Spotless Crake and Little Grassbird. We'll visit a raptor lookout with good chance of Little Eagle, Spotted and Swamp Harrier, Whistling and Black-shouldered Kite and if we're lucky, Black Falcon. We have lunch on the banks of the Murray River where Purple-crowned Lorikeet is often found, after which we proceed into the Adelaide Hills. While most of South Australia's landscapes are arid, the Adelaide Hills are an exception. Tall, dense eucalypt forests provide habitat for many species otherwise only found in Australia's eastern states. We will look for Yellow-tailed Black Cockatoo, the adelaideae subspecies of Crimson Rosella (often regarded as a full species: Adelaide Rosella), Yellow-faced, White-naped and Crescent Honeyeater, White-throated Treecreeper, Scarlet Robin and the localised maculatus subspecies of White-throated Scrubwren. We also have a good chance of seeing a Koala. The tour finishes in the evening and you will be dropped off between 6-7pm at a hotel of your choice in the city centre, or at the airport if you're flying back tonight (please don't book flights departing before 8pm this evening of 28 September 2023).
