Sabah: Jewel of Borneo 10-day birding & wildlife tour

*Amazing rainforests, magical mountains, tropical coasts
–in great comfort! With optional Malaysia extension.*

May 2025

Sabah, a part of Malaysia located in northern Borneo, is a heaven for birds and wildlife. Teeming rainforests fan out from Mount Kinabalu to the lowlands and coast. The wildlife is incomparable, with a host of enticing birds (including 48 endemics) and a charismatic mammal fauna (including Orang-Utan and Pygmy Elephant). Our Sabah tour is a great opportunity to visit this unique part of Malaysia. It can be taken as a stand-alone, or as an add-on to our Peninsular Malaysia tour.

Our Sabah tour covers some of the finest birding and natural hotspots of Sabah, home to some of the world's best rainforest and montane habitats. The area contains a wide variety of birds, many of which are endemic to small regions. During the tour we'll witness some unique plants such as the Rafflesia, beautiful tropical butterflies, and fantastic wildlife including highly endangered Orangutans and Pygmy Elephants as well as many species of primate, squirrel and native cats. Comfortable and reliable, the tour is guided by our expert local bird guide, one of the best in Malaysia, and accompanied by one of our amicable Australian guides who has extensive experience in South-east Asia. Together they'll make sure the tour runs smoothly and that you won't need to worry about anything – enjoy the wildlife, scenery and birds! This tour takes us to the montane forests of Mt Kinabalu, across the island to the lowland forests at the Sepilok Rainforest Centre, up the mighty Kinabatangan River to the huge Gomantong Caves and finally to the spectacular rainforests in the world-renowned Danum Valley Conservation Area, one of the world's best rainforest destinations. We'll stay at comfortable, quality accommodation with delightful meals to suit all taste-buds. During our previous tours we've recorded over 235 species of birds and 28 mammals.

Day 0: (3 May 2025). Fly to Kota Kinabalu International Airport (own arrangements), where you will be greeted by our Australian guide and transferred (included) to your hotel (included) to rest and refresh. Should you arrive earlier, please make your own way to our hotel. We will meet for dinner and introductions. Overnight: Kota Kinabalu (en-suite hotel room; meals included: D).

Day 1: Kota Kinabalu – Lahad Datu (4 May). We'll spend the morning taking an enjoyable boat ride to a local island where one of the highlights will be spotting the Tabun Scrubfowl. We'll then fly (included) to the town of Lahad Datu after lunch, from where we spend the afternoon birding the access road to the famed Danum Valley. Located in Borneo's heartland, this is one of the most important and magnificent nature reserves in Asia. It is brimming with luxuriant forest and amazing wildlife, before retiring for dinner and a well-earned rest. Overnight: Myinn Hotel, Lahad Datu (en-suite room; meals included: B, L, D).

Days 2-3: Danum Valley (5 – 6 May). Our base for the next 2 nights is the Borneo Rainforest Lodge, located on a bend in the Segama River, where the nights are cool and are no biting insects. This is one of the best lodges in Asia which also has great wildlife viewing opportunities. Over 300 bird species have been recorded, including the Great Argus, Bornean Crested Fireback, 7 species of Pitta (including the rare Giant Pitta), Bornean Bristlehead, a rich variety of babblers, bulbuls and flycatchers, and all of Borneo's 8 species of hornbill. Orang-utans and Gibbons are usually seen in the trees. The grounds of the Rainforest Lodge is full of flowers and butterflies. We have two full days here, and will spend much of our time birding along the quiet entrance road and on the rainforest trails. The list of birds we'll be looking for is impressive and exciting: Bat Hawk; Jerdon's Baza; Bornean Crested Fireback; Great Argus; Pink-necked and Thick-billed Green-Pigeons; Blue-crowned Hanging-Parrot; Banded Bay Cuckoo; five species of malkoha; Diard's and Red-naped Trogons; Black-backed Dwarf and Rufous-collared Kingfishers; Helmeted Hornbill; many species of barbet; Rufous Piculet; up to ten species of woodpecker; Blue-headed and Black-and-crimson Pittas; Green Broadbill; the endemic Black-throated Wren-babbler; Crested Jay; Bornean Black Magpie; and Long-billed Spiderhunter, to name but a few. We'll also make a special effort to find some of Borneo's most elusive specialties, such as Chestnut-necklaced Partridge, the spectacular endemic Bornean Ground-Cuckoo, Oriental Bay Owl, Blue-banded Pitta, Bornean Wren-Babbler, and Bornean Bristlehead. We'll take night 'safari' in search of mammals and nightbirds. We usually encounter Sambar Deer, Giant Red Flying-Squirrel, and Buffy Fish-

Owl, but there is always a possibility of some rarer creatures such as Malay Colugo, Bornean Tarsier, Banded Linsang, Gould's and Large Frogmouths, Brown Wood-Owl, and Bornean Pygmy Elephant. Overnight: Borneo Rainforest Lodge (en-suite room, meals included: B, L, D).

Day 4: Danum Valley – Kinabatangan river (7 May). After a final morning exploring the Danum Valley we pack our gear and have lunch, then we spend the afternoon travelling to the Kinabatangan River, another excellent habitat. Along the way we'll visit the huge Gomantong Caves containing thousands of bats and four species of swiftlets, identifiable by the color of their nests. Around dusk we'll witness an amazing spectacle (as seen on David Attenborough!) when thousands upon thousands of bats stream out of the cave opening, while Bat Hawks circle around and prey on them. Soon after, we arrive at the complex river floodplain ecosystem of the Kinabatangan floodplain and adjacent forest. The area is well protected and offers a great habitat to the rare Bornean Pygmy-Elephant as well as numerous birds, to name but a few: 8 species of Hornbill, 4 species of Kingfisher, Bornean Bristlehead, Grey-headed Fish-Eagle, Oriental Darter, Wallace's Hawk-Eagle, and the rare Storm's Stork. Overnight: Borneo Nature Lodge or similar (en-suite room, meals included: B, L, D).

Day 5: Kinabatangan river (8 May). A full day to explore this fascinating area with its wide central river and many narrow, meandering tributaries. These forests are full of birds: kingfishers, hornbills, broadbills, bulbuls, and many others. It's a great place for primates with troops of Proboscis Monkeys, as well as Maroon Leaf-Monkeys, Bornean Gibbons and Long-tailed Macaques keeping us entertained. There are many birds to look for here, but of particular note are Lesser Fish-Eagle, Rhinoceros Hornbill, Scarlet-rumped Trogon, Hooded Pitta, and many species of kingfisher and woodpecker. This is one of the best places for Bornean Pygmy Elephant and we might well come across a herd in the river. Overnight: Borneo Nature Lodge (en-suite room, meals included: B, L, D).

Day 6: Kinabatangan river to Sepilok (9 May). After some final birding in the Kinabatangan River area we drive to the Sepilok Rainforest Discovery Centre which protects a patch of lowland rainforest, with a broad and sturdy canopy walkway and two observation towers, offering nice views and a great introduction to lowland forest birding. We'll also bird along the trails that run through the rainforest. Of particular interest are the rare Rufous-collared Kingfisher and the bizarre and much-anticipated Bornean Bristlehead (which belongs to a monotypic family). Night walks along the trails offer a chance to see wildlife such as Slow Loris, Bornean Tarsier, Lesser Mouse Deer, and Malay Civet, along with interesting insects such as stick insects. The gardens of the Sepilok Jungle Lodge, where we'll spend the night, are great for some of the more common open-area birds such as Dusky Munia and Yellow-bellied Prinia. Optional excursion to the Orang Utan Rehabilitation Centre (small entry fee, not included). Overnight: Sepilok Jungle Lodge (en-suite room; meals incl.: B, L, D).

Day 7: Sepilok to Mt Kinabalu (10 May). After spending the morning birding at the Rainforest Discovery Centre we'll travel to Kundasang, our base for the next few days at Mount Kinabalu National Park. We'll settle into our accommodation for the next couple of days before heading out for more birding. Overnight: Pine Resort, Kundasang (en-suite room, meals included: B, L, D).

Days 8 & 9: Mt Kinabalu NP (11-12 May). We'll spend two full days in Mount Kinabalu National Park. The 4,095m high mountain provides a scenic backdrop to our explorations of the park, a real pleasure due to its cool climate and lush forests. It has a wide range of habitats, from tropical lowland and hill rainforest to mountain forest, sub-alpine forest and scrub on the higher elevations. It is rich in plant species with flora from the Himalayas, China, Malaysia and even Australia. We will be entertained by at least 5 species of squirrels while we search for birds including Bornean Whistling-Thrush, Bornean Whistler, Mountain Serpent-Eagle, Whitehead's Trogon, Golden-naped Barbet, Checker-throated and Maroon Woodpeckers, Whitehead's Broadbill, Sunda Cuckoo-shrike, Ashy & Hair-crested Drongos, Black-and-crimson Oriole, Green Magpie, Bornean Treepie, the secretive Mountain Wren-Babbler, Grey-throated Babbler, Sunda, Chestnut-capped, and Bare-headed Laughingthrushes, flocks of Chestnut-crested Yuhina, Mountain Leaf & Yellow-breasted Warbler, Mountain Tailorbird, the endemic Eye-browed Flycatcher, plus Indigo, Snowy-browed, & Little Pied Flycatchers, Black-sided Flowerpecker and Black-capped White-eye. Some of Kinabalu's most elusive species are Red-breasted and Crimson-headed Partridge, Fruit-hunter, Everett's Thrush and Stubtail. Beautiful flowers abound, with ferns, orchids and pitcher-plants; and if our timing is right we have a chance to observe a flowering Rafflesia, the world's largest flower (optional; small entry fee, not included). Overnight Pine Resort (en-suite room; meals included: B, L, D).

Day 10. (13 May). An early departure to arrive in the nearby Crocker Range at sunrise for breakfast and birding. This area of semi-montane rainforest is at a slightly lower altitude than Mount Kinabalu and is a good place to locate a few endemics and specialties that are difficult at Kinabalu. We'll look for Crimson-headed Partridge, Goldenheaded Barbet, Sunda Laughingthrush., Black-sided Flowerpecker, Chestnut-crested Yuhina, Mountain Barbet, Little Cuckoo Dove, Grey-chinned Minivet and Bornean Treepie, an odd looking relative of the magpie. We'll have a sumptuous lunch in a local restaurant and then travel back to Kota Kinabalu where we'll check out a local park on the coast to look for the rare Blue-naped Parrot, Long-tailed Parakeet, Pink-necked Green Pigeon, Lesser Coucal, Olive-backed and Brown-throated Sunbird, Yellow-vented Bulbul, Common lora, Rufous-tailed Tailorbird and Glossy Swiftlet before a final refreshing drink to reminisce about the many great birds and natural wonders we've seen and experiences we've had...! Tour ends in the afternoon at Kota Kinabalu airport (meals included: B, L). You can fly direct to Kuala Lumpur, Singapore or Manila from here on flights departing 5pm and later. Alternatively we can arrange you a hotel room.
