

Chestnut-breasted Whiteface & Grey Honeyeater 4-day Expedition

12 - 16 July 2026

The Chestnut-breasted Whiteface is one of the most difficult species for birders to see, because of its very small distribution in remote outback locations, and its elusive nature. It has recently disappeared from one of its key locations, leaving only a few spots where it can still reliably be found. This year we're once again offering a short expedition into the outback in search of this elusive bird. Commencing in Roxby Downs (SA), accessible via direct flights from Adelaide, this trip explores areas adjacent to the Stuart Highway before heading off into little-visited outback locations to search for Chestnut-breasted Whiteface.

July is a great time to go birding here and we expect to see many other great species including Thick-billed Grasswren, Gibberbird, Budgerigar, Crimson and Orange Chat, and there's always the chance of Bourke's Parrot or even Grey Falcon! During this time of the year the weather is dry and quite pleasant. We've seen Chestnut-breasted Whiteface here annually since 2006, so our chances are very good. The tour finishes with a day's birding around Alice Springs for Grey Honeyeater and a host of additional species. Don't wait: only limited seats available!

ITINERARY

Day 0: 12 July 2026

Arrival in Roxby Downs

Please make your own way to the remote mining town of Roxby Downs (South Australia) this afternoon. There are multiple daily flights from Adelaide. NOTE: there are no taxis here, so please liaise with our office about airport pickups.

Overnight: Roxby Downs Motor Inn, en-suite motel room
 Meals included: D

Day 1: 13 July 2026

Into the outback to Coober Pedy

This morning we bird a few local patches of remnant Callitris (native pine) woodlands before departing town to travel the Oodnadatta track, a remote outback road and alternative route to Coober Pedy. Good bird species we are likely to come across include Thick-billed Grasswren, Cinnamon Quail-thrush, Black-breasted Buzzard and Gibberbird. After lunch at remote William Creek we'll complete driving the Oodnadatta track to arrive in the opal-mining town of Coober Pedy.

Overnight: Underground Motel, above-ground & underground en-suite motel rooms
 Meals included: B, L, D

Day 2: 14 July 2026

First views of Chestnut-breasted Whiteface

After an early breakfast we'll spend the best part of the morning searching a location near Coober Pedy where we should, weather and other factors permitting, obtain our first views of Chestnut-breasted Whiteface. This will involve a lot of walking. Other species likely here include White-winged Fairy-wren, Zebra Finch and Rufous Fieldwren, which no doubt will be another highlight.

After lunch we'll spend most of the afternoon driving north to arrive in the hamlet of Marla, our destination for the night. Along the way we have chances of Budgerigar, Crimson and Orange Chat, Black-breasted Buzzard and Chiming Wedgebill.

Overnight: Traveller's Rest, en-suite motel room
 Meals included: B, L, D

Day 3: 15 July 2026
Marla to Alice Springs

After an early breakfast we will check the sparse outback habitats around Marla where we have another very good chance of Chestnut-breasted Whiteface as well as Zebra Finch and Orange Chat, while we may be lucky to come across Ground Cuckoo-shrike, Gibberbird, Chiming Wedgebill or Bourke's Parrot. We'll then have lunch and spend the afternoon driving up to Alice Springs. At the end of the day we'll retire to our accommodation in Alice Springs.

Overnight: Mercure Springs Resort, en-suite motel room
Meals included: B, L, D

Day 4: 16 July 2026
Birding around Alice Springs and departure

We'll spend a day birding around Alice Springs, where Grey Honeyeater will be the main target of the day. There are plenty of other good birds to be had too: Dusky Grasswren, Rufous-crowned Emu-wren, Spinifex-bird, Slaty-backed and Inland Thornbill, Western Bowerbird and Painted Finch are on the menu for today. The tour finishes around 4pm this afternoon and you are welcome to fly out any time from 5pm onwards this evening.

If you're staying on for our Red Centre Adventure (16-22 July), your hotel and dinner is included tonight, and you'll receive a return-client discount. Contact us for details.

PRACTICAL DETAILS

LEADERS

Expert Bellbird tour leader.

DIFFICULTY

At least a medium level of fitness required. For the actual Whiteface search we'll be walking between 5-10 km across stony, undulating terrain. We may have to do this again the next day if we don't succeed the first time.

ACCOMMODATION

In private en-suite air-conditioned rooms or cabins as indicated in the daily itinerary

CLOTHING

In the day it will be cool to mild, but mornings and evenings can be cold or chilly. Lightweight long pants, t-shirt and long-sleeved shirt over the top of which you can wear layers that can be taken off as necessary. Jacket or jumper for the evenings. Neat casual attire for dinners. Sturdy, comfortable footwear for birding. Shorts and sandals or thongs (flip-flops) are acceptable for non-birding time.

WHAT TO BRING

Please travel light; Binoculars, camera, mobile phone, chargers, power adaptors if you're an international guest, insect repellent, sunscreen, personal medications, sun hat, water bottle, hand sanitizer. Scopes, tripods, huge tele-photo lenses, and hard-cased heavy suitcases are discouraged.
